Re: WALTER WINCHELL

Dear Sir:

On May 18, 1946, GEORGE LEWIN of the American Broadcasting Company telephonically advised me that some individual had called the office of the company and stated that when WALTER WINCHELL would be on the air on May 19th, the "SCHMIDT GANG" would try to knock him off the air. The caller who furnished this information was a woman and later that day a woman, whose name was not obtained by the broadcasting company, called at their local office and left two envelopes for Mr. WINCHELL, one of which they opened and it contained the name of [REDACTED]. It appeared quite likely, from the nature of the communication, that the writer of it was a mental case.

In view of the fact that the broadcasting company was in possession of all information in connection with this information and Mr. WINCHELL was being advised by them, and since there is no violation of any Federal Statute, no action was taken in connection with this situation.

SUBJECT: ARTICLE WINCHELL'S COLUMN CONCERNING ALLEGED DESEDER

In Winchell's column May 31, 1946, the following appeared:

"Are G-Men working on a New Jersey radio character? He allegedly deserted four wealthy widere, besides the Army..."

SAC McKee, Newark, telephonically advised that neither he nor the New York Division were able to identify the case. He advised that there was a case involving [redacted] Selective Service violator, who had been connected with radio station WJPG at Atlantic City, New Jersey, in 1945, who is somewhat of a ladies' man. He added, however, [redacted] was not involved with four wealthy widows and it is not believed that the individual referred to by Winchell.

SUBJECT: Message for the Director from Walter Winchell

At the above time Agent Tully called the Bureau from New York and stated that at about 6:00 PM Edm. Feltner Winchell's secretary called the New York Office and asked that the Director or Mr. Tolson be advised to do nothing concerning the matter. Mr. Winchell discussed with them at the table "the other night" at the Bar Moritz, and further stated that Mr. Winchell will send a letter to the Director the first of the week explaining this request.

Tully stated he had left a message at the Waldorf Astoria requesting that the Director or Mr. Tolson call the New York Office when they come in so that Mr. Winchell's message could be delivered. He was told to notify the Bureau as soon as the message is delivered.

Mr. Nease was informed of the foregoing and the Bureau switchboard was instructed to refer the Director or Mr. Tolson on the message in the event either of them contacted the Bureau without having been in touch with the New York Office.

ADDENDUM (10:19 A.M.)

Special Agent Kurts of the New York Office telephoned the Bureau and was able to contact Mr. Tolson about ten minutes ago and had given Mr. Tolson the message from Winchell.

In connection with a story we are planning on Florida gambling, we are trying to track down the exact wording of a statement which I believe you attributed to J. Edgar Hoover some time ago. The gist of it was:

"If you stand on a Miami street corner in the winter season you'll rub elbows with every big-time gambler (or public enemy) in the country in a short time."

Could you possibly furnish us with the exact quotes on that statement?

Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr; Hoover:

I am mailing to Honorable Tom Clark, Department of Justice, a letter similar in content to which I am writing you. Will you advise me if anything can be done, or, if anything will be done?

"Re: INCITATION TO ASSASSINATION."

"An American rabble rousing reporter and so-called news commentator has become so degraded as to suggest the assassination of a foreign personage.

"A WELL AIMED BULLET WILL TAKE CARE OF THIS PROBLEM", was the suggestion of Walter Winchell in regard to the Mufti of Jerusalem.

This is a vicious and subtle suggestion that any person who disagrees with the JEWISH PLAN in Palestine or ELSEWHERE should be thus dealt with.

WHO is this man "Winchell" and WHO is the POWER BEHIND HIM that makes him feel he has carte blanc to break every rule of decency and morality which America has so long boasted of?

This is so shocking, surely your office will not ignore it. It is in your power to stop this flagrant and dangerous commentator.

Thanking you for your attention to this matter, I am,

Water Winchee In New York

Hell Hitler!

The Allied War Crimes Tribunal admitted that Schacht, Von Papen and Fritzsche aided the Nazis and helped them gain some of their conquests. Yet they were acquitted because legalistic mumbo-jumbo came to the conclusion that they weren't responsible for waging an "aggressive" war... But an American who parks his car on the wrong side of the street must pay a fine or go to the clink.

The German General Staff was treated so nicely by the Allies—you'd think they were indicted as seditionists.

The same day the war crimes verdict was announced foreign correspondent Edd Johnson reported that the Nazis have practically regained control of the American zone in Germany!

There cannot be peace so long as the fanatic militarism of the German General Staff exists. They always considered a military defeat as a mistake to be rectified in the next war... A historian once pungently described German General Staff mentality: "They believe that the human race begins with the Neustanant."

And what kind of peace did the German General Staff plan for the Allies? On May 16, 1933, the official organ of the GS "Deutsche Wehr" (German Army) boldly proclaimed: "The only prize of victory will be the complete elimination of the vanquished from further competition, his destruction as an independent and important political force. Every sign of the enemy's militarism must be eradicated. He must be destroyed and despoiled."

The Justice Dept's announces that it has evidence (You don't say? Hmf!) linking the Bund with the Klan... Three Sunday nights ago we pointed out that evidence of such a marriage could be found in the best seller book "Under Cover"... But now that they have the evidence—what are they going to do about it?... Nothing... Most of the 26 indicted as seditionists are either Bundists or linked with them—Yes we saw only Hitler and Justice Dept. has done all these defendants is to delay their trial and make promise after promise that something would be done.

Attention U. S. Department of Justice: It is now two years since Joseph P. Kamp, the man who runs the very peculiar Constitutional Educational League, was indicted for contempt of a Congressional investigating committee. But Kamp has not yet been brought to trial. What influence is keeping Kamp from the bar of justice?

It's ironic that Rosenberg (the so-called architect of the Nazi movement) should wind up on the simplest architectural structure of all—the scaffold.

The State Dept's dopelomats are probably breathing easier now that Von Papen, who was in the same racket, has been acquitted.

This American has the deepest respect for Gen. Eisenhower... But he dissents from the opinion that "there is no reason to be pessimistic about the trend of international events"... Eisenhower minimizes the possibility of another war... Yet one day before he made that statement—Selective Service announced that the October draft quota had been boosted high... Why draft more men if there is no danger?... Why is the Army holding maneuvers in Alaska?... Why are we continuing to add to our stockpile of atom bombs?... Why are there American MPs wherever there are civilized people all over the world?... Are we being threatened by anybody or is Great Britain in trouble again?... Most leaders say there is no danger of an "immediate war"... Do they mean there is not going to be war for 30 minutes or 30 months?

The critical world crisis was further emphasized by the United Press report revealing that State Dept's officials will consult with Army and Navy authorities on the Russo-Turkish dispute and added: "State Dept. sources have said unofficially that the Dardanelles is one question on which the western powers are determined to take a strong stand against Russia, at all costs."
The vital words are "AT ALL COSTS."

Here is the best illustration of official double-talk that seduces the public and forces a reporter to be attacked because he speaks plainly. For the past month the State and Navy Departments have said that our fleet in the Mediterranean was there solely on a "good-will cruise"... But the State and Navy Departments debunked their own words this week by publicly admitting that the fleet was not here for a good will cruise—but to provide the muscles for our foreign policies...Navy Sec'y Forrestal stated that the fleet is "there to protect U. S. interests and to support U. S. policies in the area." He also made it clear that our tanks were far from finished and other carriers would follow the ships we already have in the Mediterranean. Period.

Irresponsible Reporting Dept: For the past few weeks newspapers have been carrying yarns about the "gazelle boy"... He is supposed to have lived with gazelles all his life, could run 50 miles an hour, etc... Mr. Luce's mag even published a full page photo of the "gazelle boy," and the picture was reprinted in many other places... Now the AP has exploded the fable and reveals that it is all a hoax... I have more last laughs! Haw!!!

The following points may explain why Schacht was acquitted... British and American experts have estimated, if necessary, Germany's industry in the Ruhr (representing 3/5 of Germany's war potential capacities) could be restored within 6 months... The war potentialities of Germany are today still greater than all the potentialities of the remaining European countries together, with the exception of Russia and Great Britain... The British will give Schacht permission to leave Germany for a vacation in Sweden. Swedish friends of his say they expect him there soon.

In Nuernberg last Summer the international menagerie of newsmen covering the War Crimes Trial was becoming pretty bored with that long-drawn out ordeal... A little old guy from Texas, under orders to miss no trial session, summed it up: "We who must stay here to the end of this trial," he intoned, "are truly the last victims of Nazi persecution!"

The francos, the petons, the dillings, the kuhns and the mc-williams (who gave the enemy aid and comfort during the war) are free, while the Wm. F. Maloney's, the John Roy Carsons (author of "Under Cover") and others on the side of law and order are pushed, shoved and kneed.

Twelve Nazis will hang—instead of Twelve Million.

Committee Disapproves Progress Constitution

A decisive setback was scored last night against Youth for Progress, a student discussion group, when an MSG committee on organizations refused to recommend approval of the YP constitution to the men's general assembly.

The vote against the constitution was 19 to 1. Of the 20 members would not vote.

The reasons for the refusal, according to the majority report, was a conflict in YP and University policies.

YP's best chance for continued existence now is an appeal before the general assembly.

If MSG turns down the appeal and accepts the ruling of its committee, YP will be denied University approval. If, however, the general committee reverses the ruling of the organization committee, YP may continue to meet on University property and use the University name.

Professors Led Debate
Highlights of the meeting last night was the speech of Prof. William Lederman of the sociology department, just before the vote was taken.

"Many faculty members have suspicions that someone might be using Youth for Progress for all wrong motives that on number is 'wears out' the recipient hold the group."

"If this is so, I think the University might have to give the group approval," he added.

"On the other hand," Lederman stated, "if Youth for Progress is in the right hands, I feel it can do really constructive work on campus."

The sociologist warned the organization committee to study YP carefully before reaching any decision.

When asked by the Daily Orange to explain what organization might be using YP, Lederman said that:

"That's a favorite trick of the communist party."

Many questions directed his committee yesterday in YP representatives who attended the meeting concerned YP's political position.

"Why won't YP take a stand against communism?" was the query of one MSG member. "Why do you do you fight France Nazis and not fascists in Russia?"

Mrs. Blumberg Replies
Following is the reply given by Mrs. Estelle Blumberg, YP charter member.

"Youth for Progress takes no stand against the communists in America because the party is morally, James Earl, Fred Lee, and Louis Lomax.

"The same is true in the case of Russia. The government is atting of the said peace table with the Soviets, and we stand with them."

"When the United States makes changes in school about the communist party and the Russians, we will we," she added.

Mrs. Blumberg also said:

1.—That YP has never had a political candidate for election.

2.—That YP was against red-baiting because many people were called communists who were not really so.

3.—That YP programs in Washington officials show that university men and women are not only students but citizens of the world.

4.—That YP never had any connection with the American Youth for Democracy, banned from campus two years ago.

Committee Deliberate Report
Following is the minority report I submitted by committee members who voted against the YP constitution.

"We feel the policies of YP are contrary to the University policies because the group uses the University name to endorse unapproved laws. This is against administrative regulations."

Here is the organization committee's majority report:

"If there is any policy or action Youth for Progress has taken, which has not been in accord with the University's regulations, we feel that constitution should be made whereby Youth for Progress would be acceptable."

The two MSG members who voted in favor of the YP constitution were Myron Hunsch and Irving Rosenthal.

Paul Epstein Vets

Explaining their vote to the Daily Orange, the pair said the principles of Youth for Progress are not as important function which the campus needs.

Russell Krombitz, the one committee member who did not vote, felt there had been too little discussion for an intelligent decision.

Following are the names of the committee members who voted against the YP constitution:

Moroney, James Shaw, Fred Lee, and Louis Lomax.

The meeting was conducted by Jack Brubaker, committee chair-

Thornhill's Formula: Classics to Swing

The story of the rise in popularity of Glenn Thornhill is the substance of a Pop piece we printed checked and took to camp. With ultra-sensory obtained from the musical intelligence of the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, the young man "Thornhill" has had not least to work with Bing Crosby, Spike, Goodman, and the late Glenn Miller provided the formula of his own crew. Like many who have fast to surface, Claude Thornhill achieved his first real break at the 1938 Island Casino, which has often been called "the cradle of swing."

From there he played leading parties throughout the nation as well as in popularity as a Columbia recording artist.

With the outbreak of the war Thornhill wound up with a 30 month's tour with Uncle Sam's Navy.

Returning Arts, Shaw in 1945, the Emerson "Bangers," a young man with the "walking jazz" sound one Pacific coast after another and brought in music to all.

With the Thornhill aggregation came two the vocalists.

Frank Warren, aside from the good looks, is a young hopeful, his studies with WNYC in New York. Following a whirl with the radio game, she was signed to Cameo records.

However, when an offer from Thornhill became a reality, Frank Warren chose what seems to be the wise course.

Buddy Hughes, who isn't at all the other popular singers in that he doesn't try to imitate, has sung with Tommy Dorsey, and is now in the Thornhill band.

All in all, it looks like a beautiful evening of dancing when the DJ's ball rolls around.

Russell Kronick BMOG

The Biggest Man on Campus is Russell Kronick is a member of the men's student government committee on constitutions and activities. Kronick attended the recent constitution hearing on the Youth for Progress did not vote in favor of Youth for Progress. But neither did he vote against the proposal. Kronick did not vote. His not voting carries him the title of the Biggest Man on Campus today.

Why didn't Kronick vote? He explained it simply. He felt that there had been too little discussion for an intelligent decision.

We feel Kronick was right. We feel that the committee's action was hasty, poorly timed, and poorly thought out.

We feel that there was too little time devoted to investigation to form the basis of an intelligent decision.

We feel that by not projecting its views beyond the immediate disposition of the question, the committee has set the stage for organizing a group which otherwise may have faded the children without too much fanfare and University-wide notice.

The members of the committee who voted against the Youth for Progress constitution based their decision on the following action of the University rules and regulations:

"Since the University is a non-partisan organization, it cannot approve student political or party clubs of any sort.

"Students may affiliate as individuals with such clubs as they prefer, but must be approved as recognized campus organizations."

Did the members of the committee take time to find out that one year ago, MSG, interpreted the same rule to permit YF to remain on campus?

NO.

Did the members of the committee take time to investigate whether or not YF has communist leanings as many have alleged?

NO.

In short, the MSG committee acted without necessary investigation on one of the most controversial issues on campus today, in doing so they have accented the criticism levied at student government.

Though we may not agree with Youth for Progress politics, we find ourselves at

YP Members May See Chancellor Tolley Today

Maxwell Professors Back MSG Decision

Two members of Youth for Progress, whose constitution received an "no" Tuesday from MSG, got nothing but joy feet last night after a visit to the home of Chancellor William P. Tolley.

The two YFPA, co-chairmen Sandra Waldman and David Kaplan, were trying to find out her the points of their group differed from the University's.

With the co-chairmen were representatives of another campus organization, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People which is supporting the YF fight for admission.

A short wait in the more natural, most, however Chancellor Tolley might see them today, the YF members were told.

The arrival of NAACP representatives was just another surprise development in the dramatic case.

At the statement of Max Morris Blumberg, NAACP president, who represented his group at the visit in the chancellor's home.

"NAACP feels that it follows that with that of Youth for Progress admitted we do not share the same view. We feel that they because we do not feel that we should have the same action as taken by the committee who

The case of Youth for Progress drew continued yesterday from three Maxwell professors, of an MSG committee on campus approval of the constitution group's contributions in the Man's assembly.

During the meeting the political and a professor of sociology traced that someone might be using the group for the sinister

TS professor, Dr. William L. Aiken with Labaree, the faculty members who sponsored resolution on YF issues were Carl R. Rye, head of the economics department and Warren G. Walsh, head of the department on Business Administration.

Asked if Rye, the MSGC member's action was well known, he said he was not certain that it is a departure from procedure that should be clarified before any action is taken.

Rye warned, however that constant tactics would make it difficult to trace any connection to the Youth for Progress group.

Agreement with Rye's stand was seen in Wald's comment that he implicitly agree with MSG's actions as reported in the report of the committee meeting.

Walsh, who the YF statement that they would have to form several organizations if Youth for Progress were led on campus.

The lone supporter of Youth for Progress was Labaree, who termed the committee's action "a negative one."

"Nothing shows down is a destructive action," Labaree said only to stress Labaree's view that it would have been wrong for the committee to have condemned YF more severely before a decision.

Sunday evening, December 22, 1946, two Agents from this office followed Mr. Winchell from the Roney Plaza Hotel to WGES broadcasting station. Mr. Winchell gave one of the Agents the attached teletype message with the request that it be given to you today.

Mr. Winchell inquired if the local office had a record of a BILL COOPER with the statement that the FBI Office in Atlanta "should pick up the paratrooper for questioning relative to this fire before anyone else contacted him." Mr. Winchell indicated that BILL COOPER had called him long distance several times from Atlanta yesterday and stated that he could produce a witness who with him, COOPER, had overheard a man boast that he set the fire at the Winecoff Hotel which killed so many people. The man who set the fire was supposed to be a former paratrooper and his motive for setting the fire was that his wife and her lover were in the hotel that night.

Special Agent Stoddard, who was one of the Agents with Mr. Winchell, immediately called me and gave me this information. It was relayed to the Atlanta office by teletype prior to Mr. Winchell's broadcast.

For your information, Mr. Winchell had no other information concerning BILL COOPER and since there are in this office nine index cards on WILLIAM COOPER and three on WILLIE COOPER and none on BILL COOPER, it would be difficult to make an identification without some investigation in Atlanta.

Dear Walter:

I got a tremendous kick out of the attached cartoon and the alleged colloquy between yourself and me. I couldn't find a signature either, but then that is characteristic of the way these people work. Thanks for calling it to my attention. In accordance with your desire it is being returned herewith.

With best wishes and kind regards,

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Winchell:

I feel your item in last Thursday's issue in the Daily Mirror about B. RUBIN was an injustice not only to him, but, more important, to the cause to combat Fascism.

I refer you to an article written by B. Rubín in the October-November 1946 issue of The Protestant, on page 19, entitled "No Halo for Kagawa". Are you accepting on face value the reason for his dismissal from the staff of the Stars and Stripes was the fact that he was a communist? I do not know whether he is or is not a communist, but is there any logic to your reasoning that we are not to believe anything he may have to say because he is, even if it were the truth? Because he writes for the Daily Worker, as you say, are we to presume that nothing that is printed in that paper is the truth? By the same token, you write for the Hearst syndicate, which represents fascism, which today is considered to be a greater evil than communism. Does it follow that we are not to believe anything you have to say?

If B. Rubín was dismissed because he was a communist, why wasn't it done a long time ago? He was acceptable to the army during the war, but because he uncovered something and gave the Americans the truth about Dr. Toyohiko Kagawa, a man MacArthur was trying to force on Japan, they try to make us believe B. Rubín was dismissed for being a communist.

If you are not able to obtain a copy of the October-November 1946 issue of The Protestant to read B. Rubín's article which explains why he was dismissed, I will gladly make my issue available to you.

Very truly yours,

G. Man Hoover has another enlightening article in American Mag. He reveals the menace of Communism over here—by using the words of the—Communists themselves (Daily Worker, kindly copy)...I. Don Levine's Plain Talk tells about "a typographical error named B. Rubin," who colyurns for the scummy rag. "Rubin," he reports, "got himself a considerable build-up last year when he was ousted by General MacArthur from the Tokyo edition of the Stars & Stripes. The charge was that Rubin followed the Party line. At the time, he denied strenuously that he was a Communist" ...The caption is: "They Never Admit it."

At 7:45 p.m., Supervisor Shanklin of the New York Office telephoned and stated that Miss Rose Bigman, Secretary to Walter Winchell, was calling from Circle 5700, Extension 8051, asking to be connected with Mr. Tolson. The Bureau operator was unable to contact Mr. Tolson and at 8:15 the New York Office was instructed to contact Miss Bigman and ascertain if she would talk to someone else, possibly SAC Scheidt. She could not be reached at the number above at that time.

At 11:55 p.m. the Director called and was advised of the above information.

Subject: Radio Program "Americans All"

I have just received a call from Mr. Richards of the radio magazine "Broadcasting" in re the above radio program. This half hour program goes on every Sunday night at 11:15 P. M. over the independent station WWDC in Washington, D. C.

The show varies from week to week, sometimes featuring a drama, a round table discussion, university professors, or members of various religious faiths discussing racial and religious matters, and on occasion, they have Congressional members discussing various topics of the day.

The program will celebrate its first anniversary on March 30, 1947 and on March 31 a banquet will be held at the Statler Hotel in Washington at 7:30 P.M. to commemorate the anniversary.

Thomlinson Todd, who directs the program, is president of the Institute of Race Relations and donates his time so far as programming and direction are concerned.

The station contributes free time for the program as a sort of public service. Mr. Todd had hopes of ultimately expanding the program to include a larger listening audience than it now has. At present, the listening audience is pretty limited coming, as the program does, at 11:15 at night.

Mr. Todd was described as a pretty reasonable, intelligent person, and very anxious to give information. He will send ~~written~~ written material along to Mr. Richards who has promised to forward this material to me. When I get it I will send it to you.

Dear Walter:

Under separate cover I am sending you a copy of the book "The Story of the FBI," which was published by E. P. Dutton and Company and which was prepared by the editors of Look Magazine.

We of the FBI were very happy to lend our cooperation in the preparation of this book since it is the first picture history which has been done on the Bureau, and I thought you might like to have an advance copy of the book, which I was very happy to autograph.

Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. Hoover,

I am writing you this letter, with a copy of same to the Jergans Co and the A&B&C broadcasting Co. for the reason that we think, and there are many others who think the same way, that Walter Winchell is a menace to this country and all that we stand for. His dirt slinging about good people, and his praise of such hounds as Roy Carlson should not be allowed. Why--can you tell me that such left wingers as Swing and Shirer have been eliminated and Winchell has not.

Walter Winchell is the only UNCLEAN spot on the radio today.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Winchell:

As a Commentator on the radio, I have often heard people say that you were stinko, but listening to your program, I personally have always admired most of the things you said.

However, after hearing your fifteen minute program last night, I must agree that you really are getting stinko. As a so-called true American, why build up strife among people by telling the 400 Anti-British to go to the meeting of the Jewish Underground to be held this week. Who is paying a man in your position to bring two groups of people together in America to stir up trouble? It seems to me that if YOU are allowed to speak over the radio in the manner that you do, the Government should stop you or else give every American the opportunity to speak his thoughts over the radio as you do. DON'T YOU THINK YOUR TACTICS ARE SIMILAR TO HITLER'S?

[redacted] of the Anti-Defamation League called. He has a letter from [redacted] of their New York office to the effect that Walter Winchell had related a conversation he had had with [redacted] who had told Winchell that he was coming to him as a result of a suggestion on the part of the Director with a view of furthering the career of Mr. Infantino, the famous European singer. Winchell asked the ADL to check on [redacted] and find out whether the Director referred him to Winchell.

I told [redacted] there was no indication in our files of this being the case, that I frankly doubted that the Director had referred [redacted] to Winchell, although it was entirely possible he might have approached the Director someplace and in the conversation stated he was going to see Winchell and the Director might have acquiesced. I told him I did not know but would ask the Director if he had any recollection.

[redacted] also stated that [redacted] who formerly was with [redacted] also stated that [redacted] was now seeking a job with the ADL, that they understood we were investigating [redacted] one time on an impersonation charge. After checking the file I told [redacted] we investigated an allegation which was not substantiated. I told him that we would have nothing to do with [redacted] [redacted] indicated that the Bureau was cooperating with his League on a radio program and that this, of course, was not true.

Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:

WALTER WINCHELL

In regards to Walter Winchell's accurate predictions on current + national events, I often believe that he may be paying off some disloyal Federal employees, who is trusted with confidential matters in those different offices.

A thought for what it may be worth + an answer is not expected.

Yours truly,

Walter Winchell In New York

Paradise, And Paradise Lost

Apple blossoms and violets,
All in a sea of emeralds,
Glistening wet with the dew;
The freshness, the fragrance, the sunshine,
And . . . . You!

Red, red hands and an aching back.
Ain't a sea of emeralds
Made from the bubbles we blow;
Dirty dishes and flatless kishkes
And, urch . . . you!!!!

—Tom Weatherly.

Frank O'Malley once had a terrific tiff with a city editor and was fired. Then a city-wide story broke. The chief made several flop attempts to hire Frank back.

Finally, he had a reporter phone Francis to say "the boss just had a serious heart attack and his last request was for you, O'Malley, to return to the paper."

"Did it work?" asked the anxious boss.
"Yes," was the chuckled reply. O'Malley said he'd never forgive himself—after waiting for your kick-off so many years—somebody else had the pleasure of writing your obit.

"The phone strike did on good thing," postcards Jack Elmsdon. "Now you can finish taking a bath!"

Mike Rosenoff was with Gen. Cavallero in the Colony when a drunk said: "I know you—you're a phony prince. Your real name is Harry Gersoum you come from Brooklyn, and I used to buy you drinks ten years ago!"

"Yes," squelched Cavallero "and now he can buy you!"

A Hollywood publicist has thus lacked on the wall: "Writers with tact have less to retract."

Mable Chanlin refuses to become an privileged citizen because that privilege is handed to people such as Elizabeth.

From a Paris letter: "To see Yvonne Fresnay and his wife, Yvonne Printemps, act together is sheer joy. Miss Printemps was married once to Sacha Guitry, and they say (in Paris) that Guitry suggested an inscription for her tombstone: 'Here lies Yvonne Printemps—for the first time COLD!'"

A press agent was reporting unhappy news to a client.

"We tried very hard," he all big, "but I can't get Winchell to give you a plug."

"Can't," begged the bandleader, "you get him to rap me?"

Somebody ought to tell Stalin the Americans don't want a war with Russians any more than they want a peace without her.

Jay Burton tells about the American tourist home from a visit to Russia.

"Did you see the head man?" asked a pal.

"No," was the retort. "General Marshall was tied up."

"Dear Walter," reports "Bob Kane of Benton & Bowles: "name of Walter Winchell popped up on 'Juvenile Jury' (radio's mokest discussion program), and I thought you'd care to hear about it."

"A San Francisco lad confronted the panel of youngsters with the problem of a sister whose typing of her autobiography disturbed him during homework. The nine-year-old Peggy Bruce suggested he inform his sister that most good writers use pegs."

"That's not true, said emcee Jack Barry. Walter Winchell uses a typewriter."

"But Shakespeare," countered Peggy, "used a pen!"
A quill, Peggy.

The Department of Justice has denied the application of the army to drop proceedings against Anita Sully.

Secretary Patterson ought to explain the position of his department to the American people.

The Gold Star mothers would be particularly interested in why the War Department should intervene to save the voice which taunted our wounded and dying they were suckers—not heroes. Assistant Attorney General A. Caudle, who turned down the request—did it with a grin. "We're not taking Sally off your hands," he said, "because among other things I'd have Pearson and Winchell around my neck!"

Correspondents were discussing the Palestine situation.

"I can't help but feel pity," said one, "for those executed."
"I feel even sorer," sighed another, "for those still alive."

Grandma's wisdom: "Never throw away the dirty water until you have the clean." The hand may describe a mother's equal love for all her children. No matter which finger is cut it hurts the same. "Don't know say anything that doesn't hurt."

A Socialist reported that Communist Klinton K. had written a benefit for the "Hera."
"How can she?" said a columnist. "They've shipped all the war prisoners back to Germany."

Jimmy Cannon's bysmaker to the jaw of gag peddlers: "The humor of the radio stems from old joke books, which are ransacked by the literary second-story men who have the effrontery to describe themselves as writers when their only talent is mastery for what better man have sweated out in the agony of creation."

Arthur Murray, the dance man, recalled the time John Barrymore (on the wagon) met W. C. Fields at a bar. Fields ordered two double whiskeys.

"But," said Barrymore, "I told you I'm on the wagon."
"I'm not!" glared Fields.

Credit Lewis Belmore with this comment on stock marketeering: "It is the lamentable truth that suckers have never been organized. Organizers could form a little committee to amend old adages which are no longer true. You advance money in at the bottom of everything. Suckers do not find it at the bottom of their pockets, which proves this adage hopelessly antiquated."

The Washington politicians are screaming for Wallace to be brought back. And all the time we thought they wanted to get the radicals OUT of the country.

"Missouri Compromise" (by ABC Commentator Tris Coffin) will be Little Brown'd on May 5th. The author does a spellbinding job of personal journalism having been closer to FDR and HST than many historians. It is crowded with untold White House stories. Truman is not the villain of the book. Mr. Coffin depicts him "as a nice little guy in a job too big for him."

There are clowns, Sad Sacks and villains in "Missouri Compromise."
The hero is dead.

J. Edgar Hoover announced that Hollywood is "housing many Communists and they should be cleaned out."

Every week on the air, however, is a program (from FBI files) called "Your FBI in Peace and War."

BACKGROUND

It will be recalled that Walter Winchell's column in the New York Daily Mirror of April 23, 1947, stated that the theme song for the radio program "Your FBI in Peace and War" (sic) is "Loves for Three Oranges," written by Prokofieff, "one of the world's leading Communists."

FACTS

You will remember that the radio program "The FBI in Peace and War" is one which was established during the latter part of 1944 by Frederick Collins. The Bureau has no official connection with the program of course, and it has been established that the program has long since exhausted the material in Mr. Collins' book and, therefore, is not actually basing its dramatizations on material from FBI files. It is further pointed out that the Bureau has had occasion in the past to request complete disassociation from the program.

G.I.R. 5

Serge Prokofieff is one of Russia's best known contemporary composers.

"Who's Who in America" states that Prokofieff was born in Russia in 1891 and graduated from the Moscow Conservatory in 1914. He toured the world several times as a concert pianist from 1918 until 1938 and is now living in Russia. Further, according to "Who's Who," Prokofieff composed an opera called "The Love of Three Oranges," which was produced by the Chicago Opera Company in 1921. He has written numerous works of music including operas, ballets, symphonies, concertos and miscellaneous music.

There are several references in the Bureau's files concerning trips of Prokofieff to the United States in the past. For example, he played at a concert given by The Friends of Soviet Russia in 1922 at Orchestra Hall, Chicago. (61-821-155, page 2).

The Daily Worker of October 29, 1941, stated that orchestra leader Benny Goodman had made a short speech in which he replied directly to Prokofieff, allegedly a personal friend of Goodman's, at a rally in Madison Square Garden of the Russian War Relief, Inc.

The October 9, 1946, Boston Globe stated that Russian composers Serge Prokofieff and Dimitri Shostakovich had accepted the invitation of orchestra conductor Serge Koussevitzky to be guest conductors of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, but had later refused to come to Boston on the theory that they might not be well accepted there. The withdrawal of their acceptance, according to the article, followed closely an attack on Soviet foreign policy by Judge John Swift of the Massachusetts Superior Court. This attack was widely publicized in the United States.

The Daily Worker of January 3, 1947, carried an article to the effect that the Metropolitan Opera Company of New York would produce Prokofieff's opera "War and Peace" late this season. The Daily Worker stated that reports of the concert performance of this work in the Soviet Union had described it as "a grand and heroic opera dedicated to the majesty of the Russian people and its undying glory." (61-4478-A-1/3/47)

Prokofieff is, according to the Daily Worker, one of the leading officers of the Union of Soviet Composers. He was one of four Russian composers to whom members of the American Soviet Music Society sent special messages of greeting in albums of musical recordings which were carried by radio broadcaster Norman L. Corwin on a trip Corwin made around the world via Russia, according to the Daily Worker, June 18, 1946.

The Bureau's files contain no reference to either oral or written pronouncements on the part of Prokofieff which would indicate his personal political beliefs and connections.

I further wish to advise you that no investigation has been conducted by the Bureau with regard to Prokofieff, inasmuch as his residence is in Russia and his appearances in the United States in the past have not given rise to information of such a nature as to warrant a Bureau investigation.

NEWS FROM GERMANY TODAY

The Truth About the Death of Ernst Thaelmann

In a letter to Mr. Dawson, General Prosecutor of the War Crimes Division, Wilhelm Pracht and Otto Groesbeck, Co-Chairman of the Social-ist Unity Party, reveal the truth about the death of Ernst Thaelmann, German Communist hero, and name those directly responsible for his assassination.

"Before your tribunal" the letter states, "tens of thousands of men and women, without restraint and without trace of humanity, were accused and sentenced on their own initiatives or on orders of their superiors writers and intellectuals, Catholics and Jews, Socialists and democrats. The accused are guilty in face of the surviving 'adversers and opponents, they are guilty in face of the ravaged nation and they are guilty in face of the German people whose name they bear and with the blood of their"

The letter then points out that Ernst Thaelmann was not killed in an allied air-raid, but killed after the raid on Buchenwald. The letter further annunciates the Buchenwald officials who participated in or knew about the murder of Ernst Thaelmann and requests these criminals be brought to justice and that the truth about the death of the former Chairman of the German Communist Party be fully revealed.

A German Communist Views on Germany

Excerpts from Gerhart Eislers speech held at a meeting of the New York State Communist Party in Madison Square Gardens

My dear comrades in Germany and not the U. S. Over there I should speak, write and work. If I am, against my will in this country I cannot help it. When American reactionaries in my face—I cannot say: Help yourself. How is your health? Everybody understands I have to lie back. I speak before you with very great pleasure. For this invitation to

Berlin Ceremony Alone Book-Burning

"DAY OF THE FREE BOOKS" CELEBRATION IN BERLIN

On May 10th, fourteen years after the book-burning orgy on Germany's public squares gave the world further demonstration of the Nazi methods, the first big example of which was the Reichstag rally of German writers and intellectuals gathered in the ruins of Berlin University to celebrate the Day of the Free Book.

Dr. Alfred Kantorowicz pointed out that "before" sadors and spers since of the Third Reichmen and the book-burnings and the burning of the names of barbarism burned their words.

Among those present at the ceremony were Anna Seifert, the author of "The Seventh Cross", Karl Obermann author of the biography of Joseph Wepfemeyer, just published in this country, Peter Schinkamp, Gunther Weisenborn and many others.

Among the messages received from all over the world was one by Thomas Mann which stated: "Freedom and spirit are one and the same thing. Therefore the expression 'free spirit' is a pleonasm."

libertias, how to destroy the labor movement, how to persecute every protest who will not stand for the misuse of religion for reaction and war mongering. And how to do all this under the old alibiing slogan: "Against the Reds, conspirators, and the Comintern," and with the most skillful provocation. Pulitzer-prized rats, and turncoats. They can produce Bundesden on the assembly line.

Apparently those who save today the Christian civilization with the help of the Turks and Arabian oil may feel tomorrow the likes to have

REVIVAL OF FEMME IN WESTERN ZONES

We still remember what it was like in Germany in 1919. The Federal Court (Reichs Court) acquitted the war criminals or handed out triflingly mild punishments, and gave the convicted men the opportunity of fleeing the country. Thus came the Feme (secret political) murders.

We have repeatedly called attention to similar events in Germany today. Here are a few cases by way of illustration.

Herr von Witzleben was "demanded" by a court in Spandau. The majority of the court consisted of members of the Liberal and Catholic parties. Herr von Witzleben had "hiding himself" himself in the Netherlands.

In Prussia objects amounting to the value of fifty million marks were stolen and smuggled. Herr Schreiber, who wanted to have this matter investigated, was threatened with death if he lifted a finger in connection with it!

The leader of the Socialist Youth Organization, "Falken", M. W. Kuch, was murdered by Peter Peters was a member of an SS Special Unit, one of those groups who were still murdering hundreds of anti-fascist concentration camp inmates in April of 1941. Peters was taken to an English internment camp. He was released in February of 1947! A few weeks later he murdered Heinrich Koch.

The Bavarian Minister Berger and several members of the Bavarian Parliament, received a letter which stated, among other things, that they were to report to the Nationalist German Party, but clearly no one could help him, but the preparation for a Feme murder.

There are camps for Nazis in Belgium. Oh, they're living the life of Riley; they have more to eat than the anti-Nazis who are free. And if one of them promises that he will get hold of some paper or

Behind The News

Berlin Will Socialize

The socialization law in Berlin was adopted in February. The organ of the Christian Democratic Union, whose members in the City Council also voted for the law (Socialists), writes in its connection: "The law is revolutionary, not in the sense of anarchy and chaos, but revolutionary in its content."

and social spheres of German life. Socialization is to be carried out, not merely that socialization can be carried out.

Food Crisis in West

The food crisis in the western zone of Germany is devastating. This population in Hamburg only gets about 1000 calories, that of the Ruhr district about 850 calories, and in Hesse, according to "Neues Deutschland," since April 11th they have been getting only 290 calories!

Belief in Top Nazis

According to a report by the Bavarian Commissioner for the political, religious and racial victims of
